IMPORTANT - The printing colours have to be defined by the client and approved by the printer in order to reproduce the best above-mentioned CMYK and Pantone references. The design is not intended for reproduction in other media. Please refer to the design brief for more details. The client is responsible for the final approval of the design and the final approval of the printing process. If no correction is commented about any of these items, the client is considered to have approved the design for further processing and ultimately printing.
